Clinical Rotation Coordination Fees

Mayo School of Health Sciences (MSHS) has begun to implement clinical rotation coordination fees in select allied health education programs. Affiliated schools are collecting tuition for these clinical rotations which are being completed at Mayo Clinic; we are asking the schools to share a part of that tuition to help cover our expenses of educating students at Mayo.

Clinical rotations at Mayo are defined as clinical programs in which students studying for a professional degree at other educational institutions are selected to take part of their clinical training at Mayo.

MSHS has very carefully considered the set of criteria to determine whether these fees will be charged for specific programs, as well as the fee structure. The criteria and fees will be reviewed on an annual basis.

If you have an affiliation with a program in MSHS where you are sending students to a Mayo site for a clinical experience of less than one year and if MSHS has decided to implement a clinical rotation coordination fee, you will be contacted well in advance of implementation so that you can make appropriate plans.
