EDUCATION GRAND ROUNDS

Education Grand Rounds is a forum for colleagues to share best practices, integrate efforts, and explore new trends and developments in medical education.

The Founding of the Mayo School of Graduate Medical Education: 1915-1925

Thursday, January 22, 2015

- Rochester Noon – 1:00 p.m. Geffen Auditorium
- Florida 1:00 p.m. - 2:00 p.m. Davis 300E10
- Arizona 11:00 a.m. – Noon MC-CP18B, MH-06E-51

Speaker: Christopher J. Boes, M.D.

Christopher J. Boes, M.D., is an Associate Professor of Neurology and History of Medicine at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, MN. He is an associate dean in the Mayo School of Graduate Medical Education, medical director of the Mayo Clinic Center for the History of Medicine, president of the Mayo Clinic History of Medicine Society, secretary of the American Osler Society, and vice-chair of the American Academy of Neurology History Section. He was co-recipient of the 2014 American Academy of Neurology’s Lawrence C. McHenry Award for outstanding achievements in history of neurology research.

Objectives:

- Define the unique contributions of the Mayo Clinic to the American residency system
- Compare the parallel residency pioneered at Mayo Clinic to the pyramidal residency popular in America before World War II
- Outline the contributions of Louis Wilson, M.D., to graduate medical education in America
