*Thursday – Saturday
March 4-6, 2010*

College of Medicine, Mayo Clinic is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

COURSE HIGHLIGHTS

The unique needs of women patients and women health care providers has created a necessity for innovative educational programs on women's health. This program provides a broad range of topics relevant to women's health across the life span and is designed for primary care physicians, general internists, gynecologist, specialists in preventative care, and other healthcare professionals. This three half-day course will meet its educational objectives through didactic presentations, afternoon workshops, with ample time for questions and answers. Participants will gain a comprehensive insight of recent initiatives, as well as a basic approach to addressing and improving common health concerns for women.
