Course Description

The 21st Annual Echocardiography in Congenital Heart Disease Symposium will focus on the basics of recognizing, understanding, and imaging patients with congenital heart disease. This four-day symposium is designed to provide a comprehensive understanding of the anatomy, clinical aspects, imaging, and management of patients with congenital heart disease. This year’s format will place special emphasis on the integration of echocardiographic data into clinical management and provide for greater participant/faculty interaction. The symposium will have a distinguished faculty of pediatric and adult congenital cardiologists, as well as surgeons with expertise in medical treatment, diagnosis, and management of patients with congenital heart disease. The symposium will consist of lectures, video examples, workshops, and panel discussions. Discussions of the “Top 10” Congenital Heart Defects will be interspersed throughout the symposium. An asterisk indicates the topic is a part of this special focus group.

Course Objectives

At the conclusion of this course, the participants will have improved their ability to:

- Identify anatomic echocardiographic features of congenital heart disease and surgical procedures used to repair/palliate these defects
- Interpret 2-D echo/Doppler hemodynamics in the setting of congenital heart disease
- Demonstrate basic knowledge of anatomy and physiology of common congenital heart conditions
- Recognize limitations of echocardiography
- Utilize up-to-date treatment strategies for congenital heart patients
- Manage pre- and postoperative patients based on the echocardiographic exams
- Integrate clinical management and echocardiography in CHD
- Use additional imaging tests more cost effectively

Who Should Attend

This course is designed for pediatric and adult cardiologists, surgeons, fellows in training, and cardiac sonographers. The emphasis is on echocardiography. Participants should have a good working knowledge of echocardiography.

Credit

The American Society of Echocardiography is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The American Society of Echocardiography designates this educational activity for a maximum of 27 category 1 credits toward the AMA Physician’s Recognition Award. Each physician should claim only the credits that he/she actually spent in the activity.

The American Society of Echocardiography adheres to ACCME Standards regarding industry support of continuing medical education. Disclosure of faculty and commercial support sponsor relationships, if any, will be made known at the symposium.

Location

The 21st Annual Echocardiography in Congenital Heart Disease Symposium will be held in Phillips Hall located in the Siebens Medical Education Building, 1st Floor on the campus of Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minnesota.

Registration

Early registration saves $100 in each member category. See the application for details. Your registration fee will be confirmed by mail. Registration fee includes continental breakfasts, breaks, lunches, social events, and syllabus. The deadline to register in advance is Friday, September 9, 2005. After this date, an on-site registration fee will be charged.

On-site check-in will begin at 8:30 a.m. on Sunday, October 9, 2005, Siebens Medical Education Building, Phillips Hall, 1st Floor.
Cancellation Policy
Because of advance planning requirements, a full refund will be given if you cancel in writing by Friday, September 9, 2005. A full refund minus a $100 processing fee will be given for written cancellations received after Friday, September 9, 2005. No refund will be given for no-shows.

Special Evening Events
A special buffet dinner will be held on Sunday evening, October 9, 2005, in the Nathan Landow Atrium of the Gonda Building Subway Level. In addition to an enjoyable evening of dinner, there will also be an opportunity for participants to tour the new Mayo Clinic Echocardiography Laboratory in the Gonda Building.

On Tuesday, October 11, 2005 a reception will be held at the Historic Mayowood Estate, home of Charles Mayo. This will provide attendees a chance to interact casually with faculty members and participants. A Mayowood visit is always a memorable event, however, space is limited. Course participants are given priority. We ask that attendees reserve a ticket in advance by marking the appropriate registration box.

Lodging Accommodations
Guestrooms are reserved at a special group rate for course participants at the following hotels until Saturday, September 10, 2005. Please call the hotel of your choice for reservations. When making your reservations, please identify yourself as a participant in the Mayo Congenital Echo meeting.
