Employee Assistance Plan
Offered through VITAL WorkLife
INTRODUCTION

Mayo Clinic sponsors the Mayo Clinic Employee Assistance Plan (EAP or Plan) to provide employees and family members of Mayo Clinic help to address and manage life issues and concerns. Plan services vary depending on the employer location. Effective January 1, 2018, this document sets forth the services available for employees who are eligible for the Mayo Clinic EAP and will be referred to as the “Plan”.

This is the Plan Document for the component of the EAP available all employees except Rochester and Mayo Clinic Health System – SWWI employees, but because it is intended to give employees an easily understood explanation of the Plan, it also serves as the Summary Plan Description (SPD). Privacy rules required by the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) are part of this Plan and are stated in a separate document that is available from the Plan Administrator. Other portions of the Plan that apply to the other employees working at other locations or covered by other options are described in separate documents that are listed in the administrative section of this document.

The EAP is offered through VITAL WorkLife and services are provided through a network of providers under contract to VITAL WorkLife. The purpose of this SPD is to describe the benefits available to you under the EAP.

We all have problems at some time in our lives. Usually we are able to handle them ourselves, but sometimes a personal problem gets out of hand. When this happens, it can interfere with relationships, job performance, and physical health. That’s why Mayo Clinic provides a special service that can be used by you, your spouse and your eligible family members.

PARTICIPATION

Who is Eligible

If you are classified by a participating employer for payroll and personnel purposes as an employee you are eligible to use EAP services. As noted above, the benefits described in this Plan Document apply to non-Rochester and Mayo Clinic Health System – SWWI employees only. In addition, your eligible family members (spouse and your child or children under the age of 26) are eligible for services. A child whose coverage is required under a Qualified Medical Child Support Order (QMCSO) will be eligible to participate in the Plan. The Plan Administrator will review a child support order and determine whether it is qualified. Upon written request to the Plan Administrator, you may obtain a copy of the procedures governing QMCSOs at no charge.

How to Enroll

As an employee of a participating employer, you are automatically eligible for services provided through the EAP.

When Coverage Begins

Your coverage begins on your first day of employment.

If you are not actively at work on the date coverage would otherwise begin, coverage begins on the first day you return to work and assume your normal duties.

Coverage during a Leave of Absence

Your coverage under the EAP will continue during an approved leave of absence, such as family, medical, military, and other approved leaves.

When Coverage Ends

Subject to the continuation of coverage discussed below, your eligibility under the Plan will terminate immediately upon termination of the Plan or at midnight on the occurrence of the earliest of:

- The last day of the month in which you terminate employment with the employer
- The date on which you retire
- The date of your death
- The date the employer terminates the Plan or its participation in the Plan

Eligible family members’ eligibility under the Plan will terminate immediately upon termination of the Plan or at midnight on the occurrence of the earliest of:

- The last day of the month in which you terminate employment with the employer
- The date the employer terminates the Plan or its participation in the Plan
- The date of your death
- The date an individual no longer meets the definition of eligible family member

Important Note: If coverage would have ended based on a COBRA qualifying event, you will automatically remain covered by the EAP for a period up to 36 months at no charge.

Cost of Coverage

Your employer pays all of the cost of the EAP.

Employee Discounts

Mayo Clinic and Mayo Clinic Health Systems may provide a variety of discounts on services or products. The discounts are only available to those eligible for the EAP. For example, employees and eligible dependents may be eligible to receive discounts on purchases of eyeglasses and materials at Mayo Clinic Optical Shops. Discounts may vary based upon location and materials. Any discounts are made available directly from Mayo Clinic or a Mayo Clinic Health System practice site and are not accessible by calling the EAP. Please contact Mayo Clinic or a Mayo Clinic Health System practice directly for more information regarding such discounts.

Additional Services

VITAL WorkLife may provide additional services including, but not limited to, Critical Incident Response and Well Being Training and Education. These services are provided for an additional fee and are paid for by the requesting department. For more information about available services and pricing, contact VITAL WorkLife directly.

Limitations

All EAP services must be received from participating EAP providers or other health care providers as approved or authorized by VITAL WorkLife.

To the extent that a national disaster or other emergency or event not within VITAL WorkLife’s control results in VITAL WorkLife’s offices, personnel, or financial resources being unable to provide or arrange for the provision of covered services, VITAL WorkLife will make a good faith effort to provide EAP services, taking into account the impact of the event, but will not incur any liability or obligation for delay or failure to provide services.

Certain covered services are subject to benefit maximum limitations. You are entitled to a maximum of six in-person sessions per problem (although you have unlimited access to counselors by telephone).

Exclusions

Coverage is not provided for services other than those described in “Covered Services,” above.

If your EAP Counselor refers you to another resource for assistance (such as an attorney for legal problems, a financial advisor for money problems or an external counselor or therapist for treatment), you must pay for those services yourself. (Note that mental health treatments may be covered under your medical or health insurance plan). It is your responsibility to verify coverage with your health plan or pay for charges not reimbursed or paid by your plan. The EAP does not cover and does not pay claims submitted by any health care provider or any third party that is not a participating provider or that provides services outside the scope of the EAP, and it is your responsibility to determine whether any referral may be covered by your health plan.

Participating EAP Providers

EAP services are provided through a network of participating EAP providers established by VITAL WorkLife. Information on participating EAP providers, including names, addresses, and hours of operation, is available by telephoning the VITAL WorkLife at 1-800-383-1908 (toll-free).
CLAIMS ADMINISTRATION

You (or your authorized representative) may make a claim for benefits under the Plan by providing notice of your claim to the Claims Administrator. The Claims Administrator has the authority to review certain claims and, in connection with this review, to interpret the plan and decide claims-related questions. Because the Plan is a group health plan (as defined under ERISA), special rules apply to claims filed and appealed under the Plan, as described further in this document.

Claims must be submitted in writing. Your claim is not considered submitted until you provide all information that is necessary for determination of your claim.

Notification of Initial Determination

After you make your claim for benefits, you will be notified of the benefit determination within 30 days after receipt of the claim by the Claims Administrator. The Claims Administrator may extend this period for up to 15 days, if necessary. If extra time is needed to process your claim, you will be notified before the end of the initial 30-day period of the circumstances requiring the extension and the date by which the Claims Administrator expects to render a decision. If additional information is needed because necessary information is missing from the request, the notice will specify what information is needed. You must provide the specified information to the Claims Administrator within 45 days after receiving the notice. The determination period will be suspended on the date the Claims Administrator sends a notice of missing information and the determination period will resume on the date you respond to the notice.

Content of Initial Notification

If any part of your claim is denied, you will be notified in writing or electronically. This notice will tell you the reason for the denial, including the provisions of the Plan on which the denial is based. It also will describe any additional information that may be needed to change the decision denying your claim and explain why such information is necessary. Also, the notice will describe the procedures for appealing the decision, including the time limits for doing so, and include a statement of your right to bring a civil action for benefits following an adverse determination on appeal.

In addition, the notification also will explain any rule, guideline, protocol or similar criterion relied upon in making the adverse determination, or include a statement that such a rule, guideline, protocol or similar criterion was relied upon in making the determination and that a copy of such rule, guideline, protocol or other criterion will be provided free of charge upon request (collectively, the “Rule and Guideline Summary”). If the adverse benefit determination is based on a medical necessity or experimental treatment or similar exclusion or limit, the notification also will contain either an explanation of the scientific or clinical judgment for the determination or a statement that such explanation will be provided free of charge upon request (collectively, the “Medical Necessity/Experimental Treatment Summary”).

Appeal of Determination

If you receive an adverse benefit determination, you have 180 days to appeal the decision. Your appeal must be in writing and state that a formal appeal is being requested and include all pertinent information regarding the claim in question. You should describe the reasons why you think the decision on your claim was incorrect.

Appeals should be directed to the Claims Administrator with which you filed your initial claim. You or your authorized representative will be provided, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records and other information related to your claim.

If you do not file an appeal within the time permitted, your claim will be deemed abandoned and you may not reassert it under these procedures or in a court or any other venue. If you fail to raise issues or present evidence on appeal, you may not be able to raise those issues present that evidence in any later proceeding or judicial review of your claim.

Content of Appeal Notification

If your appeal is denied, you will be notified in writing or electronically within 60 days. The denial will tell you the reason for the denial, including the provisions of the Plan on which the denial is based. It also will inform you of your right to receive reasonable access to, and copies of, any documents, records and other information related to your appeal. In addition, the notice will tell you about your right to bring a civil action for benefits. Finally, the notice will contain the Rule and Guideline Summary and Medical Necessity/Experimental Treatment Summary described above.

Legal Action

You may not bring a civil action for benefits unless you have exhausted your administrative review rights under the internal claims procedures for the Plan. No civil action may be brought more than one year after the date on which your claim is denied on final appeal.
GENERAL PROVISIONS

HIPAA Privacy Rules
Effective April 14, 2003, the Plan was subject to new federal privacy requirements. As a participant you will receive a Notice of Privacy describing your rights under these regulations. The privacy requirements are contained in a separate document entitled “HIPAA Provisions to Mayo Clinic Group Health Plans,” which is a component of the Plan document. The privacy provisions permit Mayo as Plan Sponsor to obtain your protected health information for certain limited purposes, such as operation of the Plan. However, these provisions require Mayo to agree to various safeguards to protect your health information from impermissible uses and disclosures. You may obtain a copy of the privacy provisions by contacting the Plan Administrator.

Participation in the Plan will not be construed as giving you any right to continue in the employ of the employer. You will remain subject to discharge by the employer to the same extent had the Plan not been adopted.

Non-Discrimination Policy
The Plan will not discriminate against you or your eligible family members based on race, color, religion, national origin, disability, sex, or age. The Plan will not establish rules for eligibility based on health status, medical condition, claim experience, receipt of healthcare, medical history, evidence of insurability, genetic information, or disability.

Any portion of the Plan subject to Section 105(h) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 shall not discriminate in favor of highly paid employees as to benefits or eligibility to participate.

Conformity with Governing Law
If any provision of the Plan is contrary to any law to which it is subject, such provision is hereby amended to conform thereto.

Construction of Terms
Words of sex will include persons and entities of any sex. The plural will include the singular, and the singular will include the plural.

PLAN ADMINISTRATION

Powers and Duties of the Plan Administrator

The Plan Administrator will have the powers and duties of general administration of the Plan including the following:

- The discretion to determine all factual and legal questions relating to the eligibility of individuals to participate, or for you to remain a participant in the Plan and to receive benefits under the Plan. With respect to claims for benefits, the Plan Administrator has delegated authority and discretion.
- To require any person to furnish such reasonable information as the Plan Administrator may request for the proper administration of the Plan as a condition of eligibility for you or eligible family members to participate under the Plan and to receive any benefits under the Plan.
- By action to delegate to other persons authority to carry out any duty or power which, under the terms of the Plan or applicable law, would otherwise be a responsibility of the Plan Administrator, including but not limited to appointment of and delegation of duties to the Salary and Benefit Committee.
- To maintain or delegate to others the duty of maintaining necessary records for the administration of the Plan.
- To interpret the provisions of the Plan, make and publish such rules and procedures for regulation of the Plan, and prescribe such forms as the Plan Administrator will deem necessary.

Records

The Plan Sponsor, Plan Administrator, Claim Administrator, and others to whom the Plan Sponsor has delegated duties and responsibilities under the Plan shall keep accurate and detailed records of any matters pertaining to administration of the Plan in compliance with applicable law.

Allocation of Responsibilities

The Named Fiduciaries may designate other persons who are not Named Fiduciaries to carry out such fiduciary responsibilities. The responsibilities imposed by the Plan on each Named Fiduciary are not joint responsibilities with any other fiduciary unless specifically so designated therein. No fiduciary is responsible for the act, or failure to act, of any other fiduciary.
YOUR RIGHTS UNDER ERISA

As a participant in the EAP you are entitled to certain rights and protections under the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (ERISA), as amended. ERISA provides that all Plan participants shall be entitled to:

Receive Information about Your Plan and Benefits

a) Examine, without charge, at the Plan Administrator’s office and at other specified locations, such as worksites and union halls, all documents governing the Plan, including insurance contracts and collective bargaining agreements, and a copy of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) filed by the Plan with the U.S. Department of Labor and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Employee Benefits Security Administration.

b) Obtain, upon written request to the Plan Administrator, copies of documents governing the operation of the Plan, including insurance contracts and collective bargaining agreements, and copies of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) and updated summary Plan description. The Administrator may make a reasonable charge for the copies.

c) Receive a summary of the Plan’s annual financial report. The Plan Administrator is required by law to furnish each participant with a copy of this summary annual report.

Prudent Actions by Plan Fiduciaries

In addition to creating rights for Plan participants ERISA imposes duties upon the people who are responsible for the operation of the employee benefit plan. The people who operate your Plan, called “fiduciaries” of the Plan, have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of you and other Plan participants and beneficiaries. No one, including your employer, your union, or any other person, may fire you or otherwise discriminate against you in any way to prevent you from obtaining a welfare benefit or exercising your rights under ERISA.

Enforce Your Rights

If your claim for a welfare benefit is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you have a right to know why this was done, to obtain copies of documents relating to the decision without charge, and to appeal any denial, all within certain time schedules.

Under ERISA, there are steps you can take to enforce the above rights. For instance, if you request a copy of Plan documents or the latest annual report from the Plan and do not receive them within 30 days, you may file suit in a federal court. In such a case, the court may require the Plan Administrator to provide the materials and pay you up to $110 a day until you receive the materials, unless the materials were not sent because of reasons beyond the control of the Administrator. If you have a claim for benefits which is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you may file suit in a state or federal court. If the Plan requires you to complete administrative appeals prior to filing in court, your right to file suit in state or federal court may be affected if you do not complete the required appeals. If it should happen that Plan fiduciaries misuse the Plan’s money, or if you are discriminated against for asserting your rights, you may seek assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor, or you may file suit in a federal court. The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If you are successful the court may order the person you have sued to pay these costs and fees. If you lose, the court may order you to pay these costs and fees, for example, if it finds your claim is frivolous.

Assistance with Your Questions

If you have any questions about your Plan, you should contact the Plan Administrator. If you have any questions about this statement or about your rights under ERISA, or if you need assistance in obtaining documents from the Plan Administrator, you should contact the nearest office of the Employee Benefits Security Administration (formerly known as the Pension and Welfare Benefits Administration), U.S. Department of Labor, listed in your telephone directory or the Division of Technical Assistance and Inquiries, Employee Benefits Security Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue N.W., Washington, D.C. 20210. You also may obtain certain publications about your rights and responsibilities under ERISA by calling the publications hotline of the Employee Benefits Security Administration. Live assistance is available Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Eastern Time by calling 1-866-4-USA-DOL (1-866-487-2365), or TTY 1-877-889-5627.
COBRA CONTINUATION COVERAGE

Except for termination of employment based on gross misconduct, if your EAP would have ended based on a COBRA qualifying event, you and your eligible family members will automatically continue to be covered under COBRA at no charge for 36 months. You do not need to elect coverage. COBRA qualifying events include termination of employment, death of the employee, divorce or legal separation, and losing status as an eligible family member.
